THILO GEBHARDT

Thilo Gebhardt is a cultural scientist with an M.A. qualification from the Humboldt University in Berlin.

The focus of his academic education was on the history of the development and phenomenological observation of modern societies based on philosophy, literature and media sciences.

Thilo Gebhardt has been supporting the team of Below Tippmann & Compagnie since 2018 as a Researcher with activities across different industries in the Executive Search and Newplacement areas.

He has learnt the ability to think beyond simple boundaries from the strongly interdisciplinary nature of cultural sciences and continuously surprises through his creative and successful methods.

He supports candidates in Newplacement in the generation of their profiles for digital business networks and carries out research for market information.

Thilo Gebhardt speaks fluent English and is learning Italian.
